Following on from last year's successful seminar, the organising partners are delighted to bring another event to the county. This seminar is aimed at coaches, leaders, teachers, parents, sports development officers, players, athletes and anybody who has any interest in sport.

As part of the Western Region Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week 2012 from the 11th - 15th of November, the Western Region Drugs Task Force in association with South West Mayo Development Company, Mayo Sports Partnership and Mayo County Development Board aim to explore all aspects of sporting life including topics such as:

- Sport and Health
- Sport and Management
- Sport: The Culture of Alcohol
- Alcohol Sponsorship of Sport
- The Demands of High Performance Athletes

This is an open debate titled “Achieving Success in Sport: what does it take?”

Sean Moffatt
Dr Sean Moffatt is a member of the Mayo senior football medical backroom team. He is also a director of the Mayo Sports Clinic which is based in Ballina. The Mayo Sports Clinic provides the following services:Physiotherapy, Athletic Training, Sports Medicine, Occupational Injuries, Orthopaedic Rehabilitation, Bio-Mechanical Assessment, Strength & Conditioning, Pre-season Team Sport Medical & Physiotherapy Screening, Pre-Event Medicals High Performance Athlete Services, High-end Sports Rehabilitation, Injection Therapy and Back Pain Clinic.Through linkages with some of the leading institutions in Ireland, Mayo Sports Clinic also offers an excellent referral service.

Kevin McStay
Kevin McStay is regarded as one of Mayo’s greatest-ever players. He made his debut for the team during the 1983 and was a regular member of the starting fifteen until his retirement after the 1990 championship. During that time he won two Connacht winners’ medals and one All-Star award. He ended up as an All-Ireland runner-up on one occasion.At club level McStay played with both Ballina Stephenites in Mayo and Ballymun Kickhams in Dublin.He was the manager of St. Brigid’s of Roscommon in 2013 when they won the All Ireland Club Championship against Ballymun Kickhams. McStay is a regular analyst on The Sunday Game.

Cora Staunton
Cora Staunton is an eight time All Star who has four All-Ireland senior medals to her name, she plays her club football with Carnacon, winners of three All-Ireland club titles in recent years. Cora is widely regarded as being the best ladies Gaelic footballer of the last decade, if not of all time. Cora’s scoring exploits with her club, Carnacon, and Mayo means that her legend will endure long after she has togged in for the last time. Cora is blessed with phenomenal strength, speed and power while few can come close to her football ability. Many would argue that Cora would easily make a n impact in the men’s game.

Sean Moffatt
O’Sullivan played for the Garryowen Football Club during the 1970s and 1980s, while teaching physical education, maths, and science in Mountbellew. He also playedGaelic Football.
